

OLD "LAND BILL" ALLEN

Remembered by the Trades Assembly in an Appropriate Way.

THAT ONE CENT FARE QUESTION

Settled at Last—The Trades Assembly Appropriates to Its Own Use the Second Prize Flag Refused by the Stove Fitters' Union.

At the meeting of the Trades' Assembly, held yesterday afternoon, President Riley occupied the chair, after a long absence. Though Mr. Riley's leg has not healed yet, he showed he was able to wield the gavel with his old-time vigor.

Last the delegates from the different unions should forget that there was a boycott on Bowman's mines the matter was brought up again and the delegates from the coal miners' unions were instructed to report at the next meeting of the assembly.

The arbitration committee reported on its instructions to consult with the wholesale grocers in regard to the complaint made that the jobbers were not living up to their agreement to re-instate the old employees. The chairman reported that he had seen Mr. Baer, and that the wholesalers would soon hold a meeting at which the arbitration committee would lay the matter before them.

The committee appointed to confer with Governor Fleming, with a view to preventing the employment of armed men, from other states, at the Raymond City mines reported progress, and that they had, as yet, been unable to interview the Governor.

It has been claimed by the Trades Assembly that the Wheeling Bridge and Terminal Company, in endeavoring to obtain the assistance of organized labor to aid in getting Ohio county to vote favorably on the subscription to $200,000 worth of the company's stock, had promised to across the new bridge, with a twenty-cent monthly family fare. At yesterday's meeting the correspondence recently passed between Secretary Salisbury and Hon. R. H. Cochran on the subject, was read, received and filed. The gist of the correspondence is, that the Trades' Assembly, in January 1888, passed a resolution, asking that a foot-path for passengers be provided on the bridge then to be built by the company, that the fare be established at one cent, with a twenty-five cent family fare, and that no cheap, imported foreign labor be employed, citizens of the county to have the preference for employment, at the prevailing rate of wages.

The Trades Assembly's books showing no copy of the letter which Mr. Elman, at that time secretary, had sent to Judge Cochran, the judge sent a copy of a pencil copy of Mr. Elman's letter, he not having the original in his possession. In this letter Mr. Elman enumerates the various items contained in the resolutions passed by the Trades Assembly in January, 1888, but omits, probably by an oversight, that portion of the resolution referring to the charge to be collected for foot passenger toll on the bridge.

"You will see by Mr. Elman's letter," continued Judge Cochran in his communication to the Trades' Assembly, which was read yesterday, "that nothing is said about the price to be charged for foot toll, and I had no knowledge of what the resolutions, upon which, his letter was predicated, were until you read them from your book. You will therefore see that my promise was that a foot walk would be constructed, kept in repair and well lighted." [Here the judge inserts a copy of his letter to Mr. Elman, and continues:] "When his letter and my answer are examined you will find that I have broken no promise, and I now write this so you may know that all through the matter it has been our desire to observe, not only our legal, but our moral obligations."

Mr. Dobler read from Friday's INTELLIGENCER the letter contained therein concerning the pitiable case of "Land Bill" Allen, the father of the homestead bill. Mr. Dobler suggested that the Trades Assembly would do a graceful act by voting a contribution to the aid of the unfortunate man, who had spent a fortune in behalf of the poor of his country. Mr. Imhoff moved that the Assembly appropriate $15, to be to start the contribution. Mr. Purcell "saw" Mr. Imhoff and raised the stake to $25. There was some debate on the motion, several delegates believing that to appropriate money for such a purpose would establish a bad precedent. Others held that the Assembly had no right to appropriate money for the purpose. Even those who were opposed to an appropriation by the Assembly were in favor of contributing individually, as they considered it a worthy cause. The question was finally put to a vote, and the Assembly decided in favor of appropriating $25 for the purpose stated.

A member of the stove fitters' union was present, and stated that his union had refused to accept the flag, offered as second prize for the largest percentage of members turning out in the Labor day parade, as it had paraded with all its members and thought that lots should have been cast to decide, whether the stove fitters' union or the Top mill union of the Amalgamated Association, should get the first prize. Secretary Salisbury explained that the general committee had decided, that the Top mill lodge should get the prize, as it had duly accredited delegates to the Trades' Assembly, whereas the stove fitters had not. Though the intention had been to have only one prize, the general committee had concluded to give a second, or consolation prize. As the stove fitters' union, however, refused to receive it, a motion was carried to keep the flag and appropriate it to the use of the Assembly.

A communication, reciting the thanks of Friendship Lodge No. 2, for the handsome flag presented to it, on account of having the largest percentage of members in the Labor day parade, was read and filed.

On motion, a rule was established that in future all excuses for absence must be presented in writing to the secretary, to be acted upon in the meeting of the Assembly.

KILLED AT COVINGTON.

A Well-Known Iron Roller of Ettnaville Kicked to Death.

THE BODY EXPECTED HERE TO-DAY

The Man is Fatally Hurt in a Row—He Was in a Shooting Scrape Here Some Time Ago—His Family Still Residents of Bridgeport, Where He Will be Buried.

Intelligence reached here yesterday that David Foster, a well known roller employed in the mills over at Ettnaville and in the city till a few months ago, and whose family still lives at Bridgeport, had been killed in a saloon row at Covington and that his body had been shipped from Cincinnati here yesterday. It is probable that the body will arrive this morning, although to make sure of meeting it Mayor Mitchell, of Bridgeport, came over last evening as the representative of Mrs. Foster.

Foster is the man who was shot some time ago by John Kyne on Market street here, in front of where the Milwaukee saloon now is. He went to Newport, Ky., about three months ago and got work in a rollingmill there. Last Monday he was in a Covington saloon when he got into a row with one Charles Wilson, who knocked him down, after which several men in the crowd kicked Foster about the head. He went to a dentist to have a tooth pulled, but the dentist told him his jaw was broken. Foster went home without effort to have the injury attended to, and it was not for a day or two that his condition alarmed his friends, when a doctor was called in, but he said the man's injuries were necessarily fatal. Foster died Saturday, and a post mortem examination was held yesterday, showing that death was due to blood poisoning arising from his injuries.

DEDICATORY SERVICES

At the St. John's German Evangelical Church—Visitors from Pittsburgh.

Dedicatory services of an interesting character were held yesterday morning and evening at St. John's German Protestant Evangelical church. The entire interior of the church has been handsomely renovated, Mr. Gustave Werner, fresco artist of Pittsburgh, having done some particularly fine work. The painting of the ceiling is in imitation of stucco work, with a sky blue background. The prevailing tone of color on the walls is of terra cotta, with gold decorations.

At the morning services the church was crowded to the door. Rev. Henry Schnoor, pastor of the First German Evangelical church of Mt. Washington, Pittsburgh, had come down for the occasion, accompanied by the choir of his church. The sermon was preached by him his subject being "The value and worth of the Protestant Evangelical church." His text was from John VIII, 31, 32.

Two hymns were sung by the Mt. Washington choir and also a third, by both choirs.

In the afternoon Rev. Mr. Ulfert talked to the Sunday school in a way they could well understand. In the evening he preached a sermon, taking for his subject: "The House of God a mirror of the spirit of the congregation." His discourse was divided under two heads: That you may perceive the spirit of the congregation by the condition of the church building, and that the harmony of the colors and decorations should call forth harmony and unity of spirit among the members of the congregation. The evening services were also well attended, and the music was by the home choir, led by Professor Arbenz.

The visitors from Pittsburgh came in on the Baltimore & Ohio 10:10 a. m. train and left on the 1:10 train. Rev. Mr. Schnoor stopped with Rev. Mr. Ulfert, and the choir was very handsomely entertained by Mr. Julius Lohse, vice president of the church council.

A SPIRITED MEETING

At the Y. M. C. A. Yesterday Afternoon. Bishop Peterkin.

A well attended meeting was held yesterday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. hall. After a spirited song by the congregation, and well rendered selections by the Swedish Male Quartette, Mr. Elwood Hughes introduced Bishop Peterkin, of Parkersburg, who is an eloquent and very persuasive talker. The subject was "The Bible the Great Bond of Union Whose Permanence Speaks to all Nations." Other books show weakness; the Bible never. He then gave a lengthy discourse on how all attacks on the Bible by learned philosophers had failed, as no weapon formed against the Bible can prosper. He showed how the sixty-six books written by forty different men at different times must have been by inspiration of God, and that it should form a greater part of our lives, and we should study, read, learn and digest it, and that God's word should speak to the conscience, for the Bible is God's direction for our daily lives. Rev. E. H. Dornblaser then offered a fervent prayer for the young men. Mr. Lynch, the secretary, followed with a strong plea to give themselves up to God.

The Swedish quartette, which was spending the Sunday in the city on the way to Kittanning, Pa., furnished the meeting during the services with excellent music.

At Evangelistic Hall.

Saturday night Rev. Dr. A. B. Riker made a practical talk at Evangelistic hall. In the audience were noticed Evangelists O'Hara and Clayton, Messrs. M. W. Amick, N. W. Beck, S. P. Parker, and others all good friends and liberal contributors to the work. Mr. Kasly and Miss Ina Reed conducted the music. There were over a score up for prayer. Dr. Riker promised to speak there again on December 3. Last night Mr. C. W. Sawyer had the usual Sunday evening crowd. Mrs. Gertrude McClelland had charge of the music. The meeting was very spirited. The next meeting will be Tuesday evening.

At St. Matthews Church.

Rt. Rev. Bishop George W. Peterkin preached an eloquent sermon at St. Matthews church yesterday morning, at which time the contributions for diocesan missions were received. Last evening the rector, Rev. Dr. R. R. Swope, preached. In the afternoon he preached at St. Paul's mission at Elm Grove.

Rev. Father Stenger Here.

Rev. Father Stenger, of Charleston, preached yesterday at the St. Alphonsus church. He gave an account of his pastorate at Charleston for the last twenty-three years and the growth of the church. Father Stenger desires to build a new church, and is here in that interest.

AMALGAMATED ASSOCIATION.

Meeting Held Saturday Evening at the Trades Assembly Hall—President Weihe Present.

A big meeting of members of the various Amalgamated Association lodges was held Saturday night at the Trades Assembly hall. President William Weihe, of Pittsburgh, was present. The meeting was well attended, about 300 men being packed in the hall. Vice President Raymond Bowers presiding. The meeting was notified that the striking employees of the St. Louis Stamping Company, the establishment belonging to the Niedringhaus Brothers, had been ordered back to work. This is a distinct victory for the Niedringhaus firm, as the men had been supported in their demands by the entire Amalgamated association of the country. It is true that some minor requests were granted to them, but the main reason, on account of which the strike was started, still exists.

Vice-President Harry Hocking made a short speech, full of path and force. There is said to be a movement on foot, among manufacturers, to disintegrate the Amalgamated Association, by stirring up dissension among the different labor organizations. The Association is acquainted with the fact and will endeavor to combat any efforts made to destroy their organization. The steel workers of Benwood not having yet been organized, a movement is on foot to institute a lodge of the association among them. It has met with success and the lodge will be instituted soon.

It was attended by the miners' union, to which he belonged; by the Fort Henry Lodge of the Shield of Honor and the Concord Lodge of Harugari, preceded by Meyer's band. The funeral was at the Peninsular cemetery.

"AREN'T you ever going to grow old, like the rest of us?" asked a man of an acquaintance he hadn't seen for some time. "Well, not so long as I can purify my blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla," was the apt reply. This man knew what he was talking about.

Oh, the message sad and sudden,
Does those cruel wiles bring;
For in a strange and far-off city,
Death has claimed our brother Jim.

Death has claimed another treasure,
From our home so light and gay,
With our father dear we'll lay him,
Ever it dawns another day.

Then, dearest brother, we'll say farewell;
Tis hard those words to speak;
But in our Heavenly Father's Home
Our darlings we hope to meet.
